Local food bank receives overwhelming generosity in 2022

■ Daniel Bushman

With tremendous support through donations aided by volunteers willing to lend a hand in a number of roles, the Lanigan and District Food Bank wrapped up 2022 with grateful hearts and sincere appreciation. Operating out of its location next to the post office at the Carlton Trail Mall, spokesperson for the local food bank, Kathy Williams, shared the non-profit organization had a busy 2022.

“We received numerous community donations from things like food drives, dance donations, items dropped in the Co-op food bin and church bins. The local Kinsmen donated $5,000 and the Kinettes once again provided toys for children’s gifts and gift cards. We are very grateful and appreciative for all the generous donations throughout the year.” In total, Williams said the local food bank received just over one ton of food and produce during 2022 including stored potatoes every two to three months. “That was a huge saving for us.” Revamping the staples distributed to clients each month, Williams said the change allowed the local food bank to provide more nutritionally dense, cost-efficient food and all children now receive a litre of milk.

With the changes to the hampers, in total this past year, there were 347 hampers distributed for a total of 13,441.8 pounds of food. Financially, Williams noted they received “an absolutely incredible” monetary value of $43,148.18. Extending her gratitude to volunteers and those who have donated either financially or through food donations, Williams said, “Thank you so much for the fantastic year, your generosity has been overwhelming.”

Serving up success

The Route 20 Renegades headed to Watrous Saturday, Jan. 21 where they competed in a tournament as a total of four teams took part including WVC, Route 20 Renegades, Anaheim and QcVC

Royal Purple. Route 20 advanced to the final where they met WVC out of Watrous. With both clubs well-matched, the final went three sets with the Renegades taking second.

RCMP Report

Male apprehended

Investigation by Saskatchewan RCMP's Warrant Enforcement and Suppression Team (WEST) determined a male, wanted on a Correctional Service Canada warrant for being unlawfully at large, was at a residence on Red Pheasant First Nation Jan. 19. WEST officers attended the residence and arrested 25-year-old Drayden Stone from Saskatoon without incident. Saskatchewan RCMP's North Battleford Crime Reduction Team and Battlefords detachment assisted with the arrest.

Collision between train and SUV

At approximately 6:55 p.m. Jan. 20, Esterhazy RCMP received a report of a collision between a train and an SUV at a crossing in Churchbridge. The driver of the SUV, a 41-year-old male from Churchbridge, passed away at the scene. There were two passengers in the SUV and both were taken to hospital: a male youth with injuries described as serious but non-life-threatening, and a female youth with injuries described as non-life-threatening. Esterhazy RCMP continue to investigate with the assistance of a Saskatchewan RCMP collision reconstructionist and CP Police Service.

Hundreds of impaired driving offences reported

Some drivers came out of the holiday season with a bigger regret than just an inflated credit card bill.

According to SGI, Saskatchewan's police agencies reported 414 impaired driving offences for the month of December. As a result of strong impaired driving enforcement – including dozens of checkstops and other less obvious tactics -- there were 240 people charged with an impaired driving offence under the Criminal Code, and another 174 were issued sanctions – including licence suspensions and vehicle impoundments - for exceeding provincial limits for alcohol (.04 BAC for experienced drivers, .00 BAC for new drivers) or drugs (zero tolerance for all drivers).

All impaired driving offences come with Safe Driver Recognition penalties and requirements to attend impaired driver education courses. The penalties are more severe upon conviction, and they can also result in suspensions, stiff fines and potential incarceration, depending on the severity of the offence and the driver's record.

It is also worth noting that over the holiday season, thousands of people made good decisions and chose not to drive after drinking or using drugs. Other results from December: 254 tickets for seatbelt and occupant restraint offences; 2,931 tickets for speeding and aggressive driving offences; 491 tickets issued for distracted driving; 411 for using cellphone while driving; and 80 for driving without due care and attention.

Winter weather impacts roads

Saskatchewan saw all the weather winter had to offer Thursday, Jan. 26: snow, freezing rain, rain and high winds. The mixed bag of weather drastically impacted road conditions and visibility in some areas.

From midnight to noon Jan. 26, Saskatchewan RCMP's Division Operational Communications Centre received approximately 43 reports of weather-related traffic issues from across the province. Those included multiple motor vehicle collisions, as well as vehicles and semis stuck in the ditch.

RCMP asked all motorists to consider delaying travel if they were able.

I had gotten behind on a few of the local papers and I decided one day to sit down and read them. So with a nice cup of coffee and a comfortable chair, I read! It was so nice to read all the local news from the nearby towns. I am just hoping that the local papers can stay going.

One of the things I read was Debbie Farago was named 2022 recipient as Watrous Citizen of the Year! This is so awesome. Debbie used to live around Viscount for many years. We enjoy visiting with her two or three times a year, as she drops into Viscount. It was such a nice write-up in The Watrous Manitou. I really enjoyed reading it. Sounds like you earned it. Congratulations Debbie! Congratulations also on Debbie's retirement and to Angela Silzer as new executive director.

Our weekly meet at the Viscount library on Mondays for Blankets for Canada continues. Monday, Jan. 23, we were five ladies, and while we joined squares to make lovely blankets, we pondered on how many people it actually takes to make one. There are those who crochet and/or knit the 8" x 8" squares, those who give us yarn, those of us who design the blankets and those of us who join the squares together as well as those who deliver the blankets to the varied locations where they are needed. Wow, that would be a minimum of five people and we know that there are so many more that do any number of these steps. We greatly appreciate everyone who takes an interest and helps Blankets for Canada get our blankets out to those who need them. Looking for more information? Call or text Evelina at 306-281-8196.

Incentive Packages for Healthcare Workers

The Government of Saskatchewan is offering one of the most generous incentive packages in Canada for healthcare workers who fill hard to recruit positions in rural and remote areas. Packages ranging from $30,000 to $50,000 will be paid over a three-year period with a matching Return-of-Service agreement.

These packages will be designated for certain positions such as: Nurse Practitioners, Registered Nurses, Registered Psychiatric Nurses and many other professional areas.

Look What's Cooking by Laura Novecosky

Ham and Zucchini Soup in the slow cooker

Ingredients:

4 cups chopped zucchini
3 cups chopped peeled potatoes
¼ cup flour
6 cups chicken broth
3 cups sliced leeks (or sliced green onions)
3 tbsp. chopped fresh dill (or 3 tsp. dried)
3 cups chopped cooked ham
1 cup cream (half and half works well or 1 can of evaporated milk)
1 tsp. dried dill (or 1 tbsp. fresh or frozen)

Directions:

Put zucchini and potatoes into slow cooker, add flour and toss gently to coat veggies. Add broth, leeks or green onion and first amount of dill. Stir, cover and cook on low for eight hours or high 4 ½ hours. Cool slightly, put three to four cups of the veggies in a bowl and beat until smooth. Return to slow cooker. Add ham, cream and rest of dill. Stir well, and cook on high for about 20 minutes until soup is heated through. Makes about three litres.

Lanigan and District Curling Club a hub of activity

■ Daniel Bushman

It has been a busy season so far at the Lanigan and District Curling Club which, amongst various league action, recently held its Ladies Bonspiel.

Ready to sweep toward some fun, the annual event which was held Jan. 20 included 17 teams comprised of 67 curlers (pictured right). A handful of spectators also joined in for the evening's festivities.

Bailey Williams with the Lanigan and District Curling Club shared the one night event, which had a theme of 'Denim and Diamonds,' included two-end games focused on fun while encouraging ladies who have never curled before to give it a try. "We had quite a few ladies from other communities join in!"

A Subway midnight lunch was also held during the spiel along with lots of prizes which brought a number of smiles. "We look forward to our next Ladies Spiel happening in January 2024!"

In addition to the fun spiel, Williams added others are on the docket and planned for March. The Mixed Bonspiel will take place Mar. 3 and 4 and the Men's Bonspiel will be held Mar. 17 and 18, two events that Williams hopes will see lots of people join.

With the plant shutting off Mar. 19, Williams noted there is still lots of time to get involved and on the ice at the curling rink. "We host our regular league curling on Tuesdays and Thursdays and high school curling is currently running on Mondays after school. We are also hosting two full youth leagues in partnership with CurlSask that total 32 new curlers aged six to 13 hitting the ice to learn about the sport and practice their skills (pictured below left)."

Longtime correspondent calls it a career

■ Daniel Bushman

After years of dedicating her time submitting news on behalf of the community of Plunkett, with time marching on, news correspondent Deloris Wilson (Sutherland) made the decision to pen her final submission to the Lanigan Advisor Jan. 23.

For decades Deloris provided news items and was pleased to be the correspondent for Plunkett. “I enjoyed it,” said Wilson (Sutherland) over the phone from her home. “It was nice hearing from people and I want to thank everyone for sending in news to me over the years. I am sorry if I made any mistakes.”

Born on a farm west of Viscount, Deloris attended school at Golden Hill. “We lived a mile from school so we ran to school and ran home. There were no buses then.”

Growing up, Deloris would later marry and eventually take on the role as the Plunkett news correspondent for the Lanigan Advisor and also its sister paper, The Watrous Manitou. “I did enjoy it. People would give me information and I would send it in.”

As Deloris made the decision to wrap up her time as a correspondent, on behalf of the Lanigan Advisor and The Watrous Manitou, Publisher Daniel Bushman said, “We sincerely appreciate Deloris and her willingness to provide our readers with news from Plunkett over the years. Her dedication to sending us items not only during our time as publishers but prior to that has been truly appreciated! We want to wish her all the best in the future! Thank you Deloris!”

While there is currently no correspondent for Plunkett, if people would like to submit news items or photos pertaining to the community, they can contact the Lanigan Advisor at 306-946-3343 (Watrous office) or email twmadvisornews@gmail.com.
