Local photographer highlights iconic structures in new book

■ Daniel Bushman

What was once a regular sight in communities across the Prairies has now become a rarity as wooden grain elevators are becoming a thing of the past. While hundreds of the iconic structures have disappeared over the decades in Saskatchewan, a local photographer has not only been able to preserve them through the lens of his camera but the images are now documented in a new book.

Lanigan's Jack Robson along with his wife and travelling companion Mardelle Craven-Robson have spent a considerable amount of hours in their vehicle in search of the iconic structures.

Jack said the whole idea first began as a hobby over 30 years ago. "This book is an extension of photographing and soliciting elevator photos from all over Saskatchewan. When I first started capturing elevators with my camera, the goal was to document every site that had an elevator at one time in Saskatchewan. Through many, many kilometres travelled and thousands of phone calls I was able to get all of them with the exception of about 15."

According to an article published in the May 17, 2020 edition of the Globe and Mail, the number of country elevators in Saskatchewan, Alberta, and Manitoba peaked at 5,758 in 1933. In Saskatchewan, at one time there were over 3,000 wooden structures; however, by September 2018, the article stated just 427 remained.

As the number of wooden elevators started to decrease, the images that Jack was able to capture increased. With his wife Mardelle recording each elevator site as Jack snapped away, Robson also credits the co-operation from a number of Saskatchewan residents, RMs, community administrators, politicians, the Saskatchewan Archives, the U of S Archives, and many friends who were able to help him ensure he was able to discover as many of the prairie landmarks as possible.

As the number of images continued to grow over time, it was not long until Robson was approached about producing a book. "It was something that I never really thought about but after talking with friends and publishers

What started out as a hobby over 30 years ago for Lanigan's Jack Robson is now being turned into a book. Capturing images of grain elevators across Saskatchewan, Jack who has been joined on his many adventures by his wife Mardelle Craven-

Trudy Janssens and Warren Iverson (who also had a hand in providing some of the photos for the project Robson was unable to get), we thought we would go ahead with the project."

Called, 'The Book of Saskatchewan Grain Elevators,' the labour of love contains 190 pages of 1,140 different elevator sites and 1,200 photos. Retailing for $99.99, Robson said, "We are a non-profit group and any surplus funds that we do receive from the sales will be used to purchase books for care homes, museums and other places."

With a tentative release date of June 25, Jack said people who are interested in purchasing copies of The Book of Saskatchewan Grain Elevators can contact him or Mardelle at 306-365-2004.

"This project was really a team effort by Mardelle, myself, Trudy, Warren and Mr. Print in Saskatoon. I hope that once the book is finished people will enjoy looking at the photos as much as I enjoyed taking them."

Seeding wrapping up across province

■ media release

Dry conditions have allowed farmers to nearly complete seeding in all regions of the province. That is according to the Ministry of Agriculture's weekly Crop Report for the period of May 25 to 31.

A total of 97 percent of the crop is seeded, which is ahead of the five-year average for this time of year of 92 percent.

Ninety-eight percent of the crop is seeded in the southeast, west-central, northeast and northwest regions, 96 percent in the southwest and 94 percent in the east-

Provincially, 99 percent of field peas, canary seed and chickpeas, 98 percent of durum and spring wheat, 96 percent of barley, flax, canola and soybeans, 95 percent of lentils and 92 percent of oats have been seeded to date.

There were small precipitation events throughout the province. The Cando area reported the most with 23 mm of precipitation, the Kindersley area reported 20 mm, the Spruce Home area reported 15 mm, the Earl Grey area reported 12 mm and the Rhein area reported 10 mm. This rain was very welcome but more will be needed soon.

Minimal precipitation and strong winds have reduced topsoil moisture conditions in all regions of the province. Rainfall received two weeks ago has helped with pasture conditions in the province, but more is needed. Cropland topsoil moisture is rated as zero percent surplus, 72 percent adequate, 20 percent short and eight percent very short. Hay and pasture land topsoil moisture is rated as zero percent surplus, 58 percent adequate, 29 percent short and 13 percent very short.

The majority of crop conditions are good. Smaller seed crops, such as canola and mustard, are rated as fair to good. This is mainly due to reduced germination (see back page: CROPS)

HUMBOLDT

Co-ops are a different kind of business where profits all stay local right in the community. Humboldt Co-op sells seed and crop inputs directly to local farms. The farmer uses Co-op premium diesel to plant and harvest their crops. Then we sell the end product at our food stores. We are truly a farm to fork operation.

LCHS graduate joining U of R Cougars next season

■ Daniel Bushman

Despite navigating through the COVID-19 pandemic, it has been a busy year for Lanigan Central High School Gr. 12 student and volleyball player Cassadi Klapak. Not only has Klapak been a force on the court during her time at LCHS but come next season she will be trading in her Lazars blue and white for the University of Regina Cougars green and gold.

Excited to not only graduate but to also have an opportunity to showcase her skills at the university level, the Lanigan Advisor reached out to Klapak and she graciously shared about her upcoming adventures and her time spent within the sport.

Are you excited to be able to compete with the U of R Cougars?

I am thrilled to be able to play with the Cougars. I just recently started training with the them on Tuesdays and it's been an amazing experience so far. Everything is way more intense and faster than club volleyball at the U-Sport level, so to be able to start training now is great!

What is it about the sport you enjoy so much?

Volleyball is my biggest passion. I love everything about the sport, there are so many skills and techniques to learn and you can always be working on something. The intensity and competitiveness that is part of volleyball is another reason why I love the sport.

When did you first start playing volleyball?

I honestly can't remember the first time I started playing volleyball. Growing up my mom, Barb Klapak was the coach of the volleyball team at the high school. I would tag along with her and just goof around in the gym, and I guess I just fell in love with the sport. In Gr. 5, I got my first opportunity to play on a volleyball team and was absolutely stoked. Ever since then I have been playing school and club volleyball.

What position do you usually play?

My usual position is a setter; however, my coaches have put me into almost every position. I am what they call a "utility" player, as throughout a game I could be liberoing, setting or being an outside hitter.

With the current pandemic, how has that affected being able to compete in volleyball?

This school year was quite disappointing for my high school volleyball team. We had ended last year with a provincial silver medal so we were really looking forward to trying to redeem ourselves from last year's final. My school was lucky enough to get a few games in with some other teams in our school division, playing Watrous, LeRoy and Imperial.

When you look back, what are a couple of highlights for you during your volleyball career?

A few highlights for me would be winning 14U Girls Division 1 provincials with my Lanigan club team, the silver medal last year in school provincials, and travelling to Las Vegas for a 16U tournament with my Huskies club team in February 2020 and finishing fifth out

Competing in volleyball which included winning 14U Girls Division 1 provincials, a silver provincial medal and travelling to Las Vegas for a 16U tournament, Lanigan Central High School graduate Casadi Klapak (#5 above) will be taking her talents to the University of Regina next year where she will be competing with the Cougars women's volleyball team.

Who has been instrumental for you on and off the court?

My parents have definitely helped me to become the player I am today. I was a very busy kid growing up playing every sport I could, and they would drive me everywhere. They have pushed me to become the best I can and have taught me how I can push myself. They have been my biggest cheerleaders and coaches!

Are there any of your teammates joining you at the U of R next season?

There are no school volleyball teammates joining me at university; however, four of my Team Saskatchewan teammates are also going to the University of Regina, so it has made the transition not as scary I guess.

What will you be taking at the U of R?

I will be taking Kinesiology at the U of R, and after completing my bachelor degree of Kinesiology I plan to go into Physiotherapy.

Is there anything else you would like to add?

I am so thankful for all my coaches, especially my club coach Jay Magus from Saskatoon. He has been such a great coach, pushing me to become the best player I can be on and off the court. I am also thankful for all my teammates along the way, they have helped me to become the player I am today.

Jansen Lites Up The Nite is back!

■ submitted by Bruce Elke
Jansen Lites Up The Nite Committee Member

We are pleased to announce Jansen Lites Up The Nite will be hosting a drive-in fireworks event on July 1, 2021. After a brief discussion the committee has decided that the communities who support us, need us to support them after a long period of not being able to do normal things.

Although we are only allowed to do a drive-in event while still ensuring social distancing, we think we all need something 'normal' to occur.

We will follow up with more details this month so watch the newspaper and our social media sites. But in the meantime, you can continue to 'Stick it to Covid' while we prepare to 'Blast it to Covid' with a fantastic fireworks display.

Mosaic plans resumption of production at Colonsay mine

■ Daniel Bushman

After Mosaic made the decision to temporarily idle operations at its Colonsay mine in August 2019 and indefinitely idle them in January 2020, production is now slated to resume at the potash mine near Colonsay.

In an announcement made by the company June 4, Mosaic said that also means it will be recalling workers as soon as practical. Mosaic’s Sarah Fedorchuk, Vice President, Government and Public Affairs – North America said while it is a bit too early to give an exact timeframe as to when operations will resume, she noted Mosaic is working towards a return as soon as safely possible.

When asked how many people could be employed once operations resume, Fedorchuk said, “We don’t have an exact employee number to share yet. At its peak, Colonsay employed around 500 people. Currently, we have about 40 employees on site.”

As for if employees who were previously at the site near Colonsay will get their jobs back, Fedorchuk stated, “We are in conversations with the Colonsay union on what that process could and will look like.”

The move to get production rolling at Colonsay is being made after Mosaic stated it is immediately closing the K1 and K2 potash mine shafts at Esterhazy. “Closing K1 and K2 are key pieces of the transition to K3 but the timeline for the closure has been accelerated by nine months due to a recent acceleration of brine inflows.”

By restarting Colonsay’s operations, Mosaic noted it will offset a portion of the production lost by the early closure of the K1 and K2 shafts at Esterhazy. Mosaic also hopes the change will position the company to take advantage of the expected strong potash markets in 2022 and beyond.

By March of 2022, the company stated its annualized potash production could increase by two million tonnes from 2020 levels, as Esterhazy K3 ramps up to full capacity and Colonsay returns to service.

As a result of those operational changes, Mosaic expects to eliminate brine management expenses after July 2021 and materially increase 2022 available potash capacity to take advantage of the expected potash market strength. During the expected transition period of July 2021 to March 2022, the company anticipates its potash production to be reduced by approximately one million tonnes. By mid-2022, available annualized operational MOP capacity is expected to be 10.5 million tonnes.

Joc O’Rourke, President and Chief Executive Officer said, “For the last decade, we’ve run scenarios that relate to the early closure of these shafts. As a result of that planning, we expect to end up in a stronger position than ever in 2022.”

Ministerial Message
Who holds the keys to the Kingdom of God? Matthew 7:7-8

by Rev. Deacon Jack L. Robson,
Last Mountain Anglican Parish

Recently I listened to a recording of a great old Gospel hymn, “Who holds the keys to the Kingdom of God?” Within the words of the hymn is a strong pointed message about how we should live day by day and communicate with that all powerful being that creates, controls and guides all of us with power and majesty beyond our imagination. We are speaking about the Kingdom of God.

The Kingdom of God is described as the realm where Jesus Christ reigns as king and God’s authority is supreme. It is a kingdom existing in the here and now in the lives and the hearts of the redeemed, the believers, as well as the perfect future that awaits God’s children in Heavenly Paradise. This Kingdom is the fervent hope of every believer, every church-goer, every reader of scripture, but how do we unlock those Holy doors and enter the inner circle to the presence of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ? What are the keys to unlock those Pearly Gates?

From great old hymn, “Start with the Key that will unlock your heart.” This means our hearts must be open and welcoming to Jesus entering our hearts and souls. As we know, no amount of effort and persistence will open a locked door if your key is not the proper key for the lock. The first key is to open your heart and let Jesus come in. The welcome mat must be out for Jesus. “Love your neighbour,” as love is another key to the Heavenly Mansion above. One warning, do not lose your keys as you can not buy your way to God’s fold. From the hymn, “The Master key’s next, my dear neighbor, and it’s one you should use every day. Prayer is the Key to the Great Pearly Gates, and you’re unlocking them when you pray.”

Do you pray? Prayer is the most powerful and effective means to stay close to our Savior, and to receive the gentle instructions from our Jesus as well. You’ve all heard the quote, “More things are wrought by prayer, than this world dreams of.” To be faithful children of God, we must pray! Approaching Almighty God, may be intimidating but Jesus understands if we don’t use all the correct words, or terminology, or if our language isn’t perfect. We are speaking to the wisest and most intelligent and loving being there is. We should have no fear.

We must remember, and approach prayer as a fundamental conversation with Jesus. Prayer is an act of faith, and one cannot please God without faith. Prayer is the key to Heaven, but faith unlocks the door. Prayer is knocking on Heaven’s door, on Jesus’ door. “When trumpets ring out in the morning, and you step where angels have trod, that’s the great day, you’ll be so glad you used, all the keys to the Kingdom of God.

Remember, YOU HOLD THE KEYS TO THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

OBITUARY

DAVIDSON, Dorothy
Sept. 6, 1923 - May 23, 2021
Dorothy Irene Davidson (née Thompson) passed away May 23, 2021 at the age of 97 at the Central Parkland Lodge in Lanigan, Sask. She was born on the Thompson farm west of Lanigan to Lorne and Addie (née Marshall) Thompson. She was the third youngest of nine children.

When Dorothy met Clarence she was employed as a bank teller in Viscount, Sask. and later in Moose Jaw. The two wrote letters to each other while Clarence worked hard to convert a granary into their first home. Weekend trips by train and their many letters kept them going until they were married in 1945. They had two daughters, Sandra and Lois.

They lived on the Davidson homestead, sharing the yard with Clarence's parents, William and Phoebe. Clarence farmed with his brother George. Dorothy helped care for the large farmyard and gardens. They shared a love for music and dancing. Dorothy sang and played piano; Clarence played saxophone and along with various other players over the years, formed a small dance band, playing for weddings and parties. They enjoyed camping and fishing and Dorothy was a master at filleting. Dorothy and Clarence took many motor home trips, making new friends and revisiting old ones, including several winters in Mesa, Arizona, and annual trips to B.C. in fruit season. Dorothy remained close to all her siblings and was blessed to have sisters Wilda, Rhoda and Jeanne living and raising their families in the Lanigan area. Dorothy was always involved in her community, a member of the United Church, the church choir, Merry Mixers Seniors group, local exercise classes and many more organizations over the years. Dorothy continued to play after Clarence's passing, joining friends Bud Gunther and Jack Robson, entertaining at local events and seniors' residences. And for as long as she was able, she played piano for after-supper sing-alongs at the lodge.

She cherished and is cherished by her only grandchild, Kate.

Clarence and Dorothy were predeceased by their eldest daughter Sandra in 1971. Clarence passed away in 1993, and Dorothy continued to live on the farm until she moved to Lanigan in 2000 and to Central Parkland Lodge in 2018.

Dorothy was predeceased by her parents, her husband Clarence, daughter Sandra, and all of her siblings and their spouses: Mabel Quiring (Hank), Wilda Gunther (Walter), Jack (Gertie Johns), Elmer (in infancy), Bert (Ellen Johns), Rhoda Greve (Herbert), Edna Maze (Jack) and Jeanne Rucks (Alfred), her brother-in-law, George Davidson, sister-in-law Molly Paulson (Edgar), and Clarence's cousin and their close neighbour, Grant Davidson (Anne). She is missed and remembered by her daughter, Lois Davidson, son-in-law, Douglas Blackport and his mother, Gudrun Blackport, her beloved granddaughter, Kate Blackport (Lee Vermeulen), her sister-in-law, Edna Davidson, and many much loved nieces, nephews and friends.

Services for Dorothy have not been planned at this time. In lieu of flowers memorial donations in Dorothy's memory may be made to Central Parkland Lodge, Lanigan or the Alzheimer Society of Saskatchewan.

Funeral arrangements were entrusted to Malinoski & Danyluik Funeral Home & Crematorium, Humboldt.

Attempted murder charges laid

Three people have been charged with attempted murder following a nearly eight-month long investigation. Investigators believe there may be other victims of similar incidents by the charged individuals identified below.

On the morning of Oct. 4, 2020, Fort Qu'Appelle EMS and RCMP responded to a call of an injured person who was located in a rural field north of Fort Qu'Appelle. The victim had suffered severe injuries requiring hospital treatment.

The investigation, led by the Regina RCMP General Investigation Section, involved the assistance of many RCMP Detachments and RCMP support units, the Saskatoon Police Service and Regina Police Service. The investigation determined the victim met three suspects outside of a nightclub in Regina and left in a vehicle with them. The victim was beaten, tortured and robbed. The suspects attempted to access the victim's bank account. The victim was then taken to a field outside of Fort Qu'Appelle, further beaten and left unconscious. Hours later a passerby saw the victim and called 911.

On Nov. 5, 2020, a search warrant was executed at a residence in Wadena in relation to this investigation. Sheridan Squirrel and Jenna Hoffman of Wadena were arrested and charged with attempted murder, kidnapping, robbery and choking to overcome resistance. Both made their first court appearance in Regina Provincial Court in November 2020. On Mar. 16, 2021, as part of a plea agreement, Sheridan Squirrel plead guilty to aggravated assault, robbery and forcible confinement and was sentenced to five and a half years in jail. Jenna Hoffman remains in custody awaiting trial. Her next court appearance is June 17, 2021 in Regina Provincial Court.

On May 20, 2021 Austin Severight of Yellowquill First Nation was charged with attempted murder, kidnapping, robbery and choking to overcome resistance. On May 25, 2021 he was arrested in Tisdale and made his first court appearance on May 27, 2021 in Regina Provincial Court. His next court appearance was June 1, 2021 in Provincial Court in Regina.

Investigators believe there may be other victims of similar incidents by the charged individuals. If you are a victim, we encourage you to report any information you have to your nearest police service or call Crime Stoppers and report anonymously (1-800-222-8477).

Canada Road Safety Week

May 18 to 24, 2021 was Canada Road Safety Week and Saskatchewan RCMP Traffic Services officers were on the roads enforcing safety rules and removing dangerous drivers from behind the wheel.

During the week long enforcement campaign, Traffic Services officers gave 1,519 warnings, laid 10 impaired charges, and issued nine roadside suspensions, 972 speeding tickets, 78 distracted driving tickets, 84 seatbelt tickets and 204 vehicle defect inspection notices.

Men found safe after spending night in forest north of Kamsack

On Friday, May 28, 2021, a 65-year-old male and a 73-year-old male travelled to the Porcupine Forest north of Kamsack. At 9:42 p.m. the wife of one of those males received a text message that their ATV had broken down and they were trying to return on foot. At approximately 1:30 a.m., Fort Qu'Appelle and Kamsack RCMP were called for assistance in locating them.

RCMP officers, along with Saskatchewan Ministry of Environment Conservation Officers, Duck Mountain Ambulance Care Norquay Division and local volunteers aided in search efforts. The men were located at approximately 12:15 p.m. The men were healthy, but tired.

caused by winds and lack of moisture as well as flea beetle pressure. The moisture received over the previous two weeks has allowed later seeded crops to emerge more evenly and earlier seeded crops are now able to develop further. Most crop damage was due to strong dry winds, dry soil conditions, flea beetles and gophers.

Now that seeding is almost wrapped up, farmers are busy spraying herbicides, assessing possible frost damage, scouting for early season pests and moving cattle to pasture.

FSIN and Province call for action

■ media release

Following the discovery of the remains of 215 children buried on the site of the former Kamloops Indian Residential School on the Tk'emlups te Secwépemc First Nation in British Columbia, the Federation of Sovereign Indigenous Nations (FSIN) and the Government of Saskatchewan issued a joint call May 31 for the Government of Canada to immediately commence research on undocumented deaths and burials in residential schools in Saskatchewan, including radar ground search at residential school sites.

that initial sites for radar ground search should include Muskowekwan Indian Residential School (IRS), Onion Lake St. Anthony's IRS, Beauval IRS, Guy Hill IRS, Lebreton IRS and Sturgeon Landing IRS, along with additional sites in consultation with First Nations in Saskatchewan.

"Our First Nations communities and families need closure to begin healing from the traumas forced upon them at these residential schools," FSIN Chief Bobby Cameron said. "There are thousands of families across this country and in our treaty territories that have been waiting for their children to come home. These children deserve the respect and dignity of proper burials and we must follow protocol and work with our elders to ensure that their souls are at peace. We respectfully ask all First Nations across Canada to join us on this very important healing journey. We are calling on the Liberal Government, the NDP and Conservative parties to support us in this endeavour."

"Saskatchewan is supporting the call from the FSIN and FSIN Chief Bobby Cameron for the federal government to take immediate action following the tragic discovery of the remains of 215 children at the former Kamloops Indian Residential School,"

Premier Scott Moe said. "With an estimated 20 federal residential schools operated in Saskatchewan, meaningful reconciliation in our province must include research into the estimated hundreds of children that did not return home after attending these institutions, including radar ground search. Saskatchewan is prepared to support this work through the Ministry of First Nations, Métis and Northern Affairs in collaboration with the FSIN and First Nations in Saskatchewan."

In commemoration of the 215 children whose remains were discovered on the site of the former Kamloops Indian Residential School, flags at the Saskatchewan Legislative Building will be flown at half-mast until further notice.

The residential school system operated in Canada for more than a century. The federal government reports that 150,000 Indigenous children were removed and separated from their families and communities to attend these schools. The Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) estimates that approximately 20 federal residential schools operated in Saskatchewan from the 1880s to the 1990s.

The province has recently acted to protect cemeteries at residential school sites in Saskatchewan. In 2019, the Battelford Industrial School Cemetery, the resting place for at least 74 children who died while attending the institution, was marked as a Provincial Heritage Property. Similarly, the Regina Indian Industrial School Cemetery, the resting place of approximately 36 children, was designated a Provincial Heritage Property in 2017.

The Federation of Sovereign Indigenous Nations represents 74 First Nations in Saskatchewan. The Federation is committed to honouring the spirit and intent of the treaties, as well as the promotion, protection and implementation of the treaty promises that were made more than a century ago.
