I smell fires being lit, the smoke is going through my nose, melting the frost and I think it is tickling my nose and I can not stop laughing. It's crazy!
I taste the chocolate fudge. My mouth is watering from the gooey chocolate fudge cake. I can not wait for dessert after supper. I can't get it out of mine. It is so beautiful. The touch of the snow is so cold i am freezing. There are 1000s of 1000s of tiny atoms making bigger than big mountains of snow.
I feel Love in my heart and it is pounding so hard i think i can feel it a little

Christmas
By Ethan W., 4P
Hi, this is my writing about Christmas, I hope you enjoy it!
I see the glistening white snow. I see the Christmas lights, all the decorations that people put up for Christmas. The lights are bright, I see that the lights are red, green and blue, sometimes the lights have purple. All of the snow-men and igloos people have made. There is so much to see at Christmas. I see everyone's Christmas trees glowing through the window. I see all the decorations the town government put up.
I hear the wind whistling through the air, the dead trees blowing in the wind and the music from people's decorations. I hear Christmas carols in stores.
I smell the delicious hot chocolate being made. I like having a fire in the winter because the smoke smells nice, and warms me up.
Some people might think I'm crazy because I don't like mint, or peppermint, actually I haven't had peppermint so I can't say that I don't like it, although it probably tastes kind of the same, right?
I touch the freezing glistening white snow when making a snowman or igloo, igloos actually don't need snow they need ice, whenever I touch ice I like to step on it and I slip and slide, it's a lot of fun, and dangerous! When it's time to come inside the warm cup of hot chocolate warms up the palm of my hand.
I feel the soft snow and the cold wind. You've probably seen children, maybe you've seen adults do it too, but I eat snow and ice if I'm thirsty, or if I just want to eat it, it feels cold in my mouth.

All the amazing things at Christmas
Name Mia, 4P
I see a Christmas tree with so many lights. Once I almost fainted, they're so bright!
I hear Stomp! Stomp! Stomp! on the roof at night. If it's Santa I will be so lucky.
I smell breathtaking cookies in the kitchen when I'm all the way past the hall. They are just waiting for me to come eat them.

I taste spectacular gingersnap cookies. They are just the best. If I have one it makes me want to just keep eating and eating but oh it is better with hot chocolate. I touch the hotness of my hot chocolate. If I take a sip I might burn my tongue off. Ah!
I feel fantastic and joy at Christmas time. Sometimes I am also really excited to do almost everything at Christmas.

When I see the Christmas tree from outside, the lights are glowing brightly.
I hear bells jingling all night and Santa Ho Ho Hoing all night long.
I smell the ham in the oven cooking and the gingerbread houses.
I taste the ham and mashed potatoes at Christmas dinner. I touch the freezing cold snow on my hand the water from the snow is cold.
I feel sad that some people couldn't make it.

Christmas Poem
James, 4P
I see a Christmas tree out a window. It shines bright out the window. When I'm sleeping I think about Santa putting presents under the tree. Once I thought I saw Santa. I hear jingle bells on a sleigh nearby. I hear it getting closer and closer. Every Christmas we ride a sleigh with our neighbor Bill. When I went to a sleigh place a horse pushed me around the snow.
I smell gingerbread men cookies fresh from the oven. They are dark brown looking. They look super yummy. It's brown like gravy.
I taste the turkey on my plate and it melts in my mouth. It's full of juice. I taste eggnog in my cup. Sometimes I taste mashed potatoes.
I touch the presents under the Christmas tree. Some are full of color. Some are also dark colors and bright. When I look at some presents they hurt my eyes because they are so bright.
I feel happy and a little sad for family members who can't make it. But mostly happy for people who could come. I also feel excited to wake up and open presents under the tree.

CHRISTMAS
By Rylen, 4P
I see the Christmas tree glowing when I go into my house. You don't need to turn on a light. It lights the house up. It is like that i turned on the lights.
I hear me shaking the presents to see what is in it. On christmas eve i would hear what was in there.
I smell hot cocoa steam going into my face. It feels like fire steam going into my face.
I taste the gingerbread house. Sometimes we get to eat it on Christmas day.
I touch the Christmas tree ornaments to set them up. Sometimes I help put them on.
I feel happy about what I get on Christmas day. I won't complain about what I get.

I hear the sound of Christmas music when I decorate the tree. Sometimes the ornaments bring back special memories for me.
I smell Christmas cookies baking in the oven. They smell so yummy and sweet. Sometimes I get distracted while enjoying my Christmas treat.
I taste Christmas cookies and dip them in some milk. The milk drips off the cookie like rain dripping off a window. I decorate more cookies to share with family and friends. Sometimes I get distracted and need a little help.

I touch the branches on my Christmas tree while I hang the ornaments one by one. The needles are sometimes sharp, I hope I hope they don't poke me.
I feel so excited for family, presents and fun. I know if I get to bed early, the sooner Santa will come.

Christmas Month
Riley, 4P

I see a big Christmas tree that glows like the brightest star. I see bright lights through the window of my house. There is bright white snow on the ground. I hear carolers going down my street. When I hear laughter from the people around me I am happy. Happiness comes from the people gathered around. I smell peppermints. It has a strong smell and it makes my eyes water. I smell my presents. They smell so new. Sometimes they smell good. Sometimes they smell bad.
I taste ginger snap cookies. They taste like ginger and they taste so good. If it did not taste good I would properly not eat it.
I touch the wrapping and shake the present and then I rip it open. Sometimes it feels rough or soft.
I feel excited because it's Christmas. Sometimes on Christmas I cannot wait to open presents. I'm so happy because I get to see my family. I feel joy and peace in the Christmas month.

Christmas
Presley, 4P

I see a bright Christmas tree shining through the window. Sometimes when I walk past some houses I see a Christmas tree.
I hear Santa's sleigh soaring through the sky. I hear jingle bells ringing loudly when he flies by.
I smell the delicious gingerbread cookies when they come out of the oven. The scent of the cookies is amazing.
I taste hot chocolate after I play outside. Sometimes I put marshmallows in it. I put a chocolate Aero bar in it.
I touch my soft bed as I fall asleep so I can open presents in the morning. When I wake up I am so excited for presents.
I feel happiness and joy. I love spending time with my family on Christmas. I love my family so much. When I feel impatient I can't wait at all.

My Christmas
By: Tristan, 4P

I see a bright Christmas tree through the window with lights as bright as the moon.
I hear carolers singing as loud as a wolf. After a while it gets annoying.
I smell the cookies fresh from the oven. I love them. And baking them is the best. Do you like baking them?
I taste gingerbread cookies they are my favorite. Are they your favorite?
I touch the soft snow when building a snowman. Have you built a snowman?
I feel all the happiness in my heart. It feels so warm. It is the best feeling ever.

Christmas
by: Jude, 4P

I see a Christmas tree. It has decorations that are green, blue, red, yellow and white lights. It is as beautiful as a star.
I hear jingle bells at night when Santa is here dropping off presents as I go to sleep. And he is gone in the morning.
I smell cookies in the morning when my mom is making cookies.
I taste cookies in the morning and they are awesome. I love my mom's homemade cookies.
I touch a present that's mine and I'm happy because my family is there. I love my family because they're nice.
I feel happy at Christmas because my family is there. I love my family.

Christmas
Corey, 4P

I see a Christmas tree with lights as bright as the sun lighting up the entire room with beautiful ornaments that we bought or made. Sometimes we make them at school or at home.
I hear Christmas carols going down the street singing lots of songs. It is so beautiful we open all of the windows in our house. Once we went outside to hear it better.
I smell cookies in the oven that smell as beautiful as my grandma's cookies. Once my mouth was watering until they were done.
I taste gingerbread cookies that we just made. I eat an entire one then we decorate them with frosting.
Once I ate too many and felt sick.
I touch the ornaments when we decorate the tree. Most are smooth but sometimes they are rough. Once we had to throw one away because it was too rough and sharp so it cut me.

I feel happy and joy because I get to see my family but not everyone in my family. Once my family comes over and sometimes not.

Christmas Time
Brynlee, 4P

On Christmas morning I see the dark sky at 7:00 am. The Christmas tree shines so bright it's brighter than the sun. When the Christmas tree reflection shines on the window, all of the blue ornaments make it look like there's two trees. Sometimes I hear Santa's reindeer stomping on the roof. I hear my footsteps run downstairs to see if Santa is there. When the reindeer take off, the sound of all the reindeer pushing off the roof sounds like, "thud,thud,thud"! And out the window I see Rudolph's nose shining brighter than the moon.
The smell of leftover cookies Santa didn't have time to eat, made my mouth water. The smell of ham makes me want to eat the whole thing. When my lips touch the peppermint candy cane the air fills with peppermint smells.
I taste fresh cookies on Christmas Eve. The smell of stuffing is so strong I can smell it from miles away. Sometimes on Christmas Eve when I'm playing outside and the window opens, the smell travels all the way to the neighbours.
On Christmas Eve I feel all of my relatives kissing my face. At the end of the day my face is as red as a popsicle. When the door opens I feel the big stomps from my uncle's boots trying to get the snow off.
In my heart I feel happy that most of my family could make it. Sometimes families can't make it because of blizzards and stuff. I love my family as much as I love Christmas cookies.

are downstairs. It is on zoom because not everyone can come.
I smell cookies. They are set out. I eat too many cookies: butterhorn, snickerdoodle, gingerbread, chocolate cookies with a hershey kiss on top.
I taste cookies. You can always have cookies while opening gifts. I eat butterhorns the most then snickerdoodle and then chocolate hershey kiss and gingerbread.
I touch the wrapping paper on and off the gifts and cookies. The butterhorn was getting so buttery. I built a fort out of wrapping paper.
I feel the wrapping paper, my gifts and cardboard if we opened gifts and some bows. The fort is small. I like the fort. I love stealing wrapping paper.

Christmas
Kingsley, 4P

I see a glowing tree for Christmas. Sometimes they are so bright they look like the northern lights.
I hear people Christmas caroling around me. They sound like the beautiful sound of the speakers in our vehicle. It makes sense since it's on Christmas Eve.
I smell the Christmas sugar cookies. Once we made gingerbread cookies. It smells like the sweet smell of sweet grass.
I taste the ham, stuffing, mashed potatoes and gravy. The hot taste of cocoa is so good. And the dessert!!! Most of the time it's apple or lemon pie or sometimes gingerbread cookies.
I touch the wrapping paper of the presents on Christmas. It feels like a fresh coat of paint. Some of the wrapping is soft as untouched snow.
I feel happy as I watch my family open gifts. Then it's my turn and I feel joy. Once my sister and I accidentally thought her gift was mine and my gift was hers.

Christmas
By: Emerald, 4P

I see the Christmas tree. It glows in the dark near the window.
I hear my sisters' happy voices. When they open their presents it sounds like a loud crowd.
I smell the sweet smell of brownies. When I eat it's like I am eating chocolate.
I taste the fudge and it is so delicious. It makes me excited when Mom's making it.
I touch the fluffy pillow. I lay there as I look at the tree it stands so tall.
I feel tired so I go upstairs and I read my favorite book and go to bed.

Christmas
Thomas, 4P

I see the gifts under the tree. It is pitch black outside. The tree is decorated so nicely. It took us three days to set up and decorate the Christmas tree.
I hear quiet and when someone opens a gift I hear "WOW"! If it is downstairs it is on zoom. The big gifts

I see a Christmas tree. When I see the Christmas tree, I think it is as bright as the sun. Or maybe even as bright as the northern stars.
Sometimes I can hear the people singing carols and ho ho ho. They sound just like the pro singers.
I can smell the hot cocoa. It smells sweet and chocolatey delicious all at the same time. Drip! Drip! Drip!
Sometimes I can taste the chocolate chips in the cookie. It tastes like sweet chocolate chips and brown sugar.
Mmmmmmmmmmmmm!!
When I touch the green glowing tree, it feels rough and jagged like a pine tree. Once Christmas is here I feel the joy and happiness from the people that gather around the table.

I Know Christmas

I know about Christmas. There is amazing food and daz- zling decorations and a sparkly Christmas tree showered with lights and delicate presents underneath begging to be unwrapped. The smell is mouth-watering there's the bubbling of the stew. We have juicy ham and a medium- rare steak that's gushing with flavour with some delicious pumpkin pie, and occasionally a scrumptious turkey breakfast. There's the poke of the Christmas tree on my fingers and head as I slowly unwrap my present while I'm boggling with excitement. I will never forget to give my dog Nova, his Christmas belly rubs and treats and unwrap his new rubbery dog toys so he has a good day too. There are so many family members: my sister, my brother, my mom and dad, my grandpa and grandma, my nana and papa and so many more. I know Christmas, the warmest day of the year.

I Know Christmas

I know Christmas. The white lights on the Christmas tree sparkle while they play “Deck the Halls”. The homemade hot chocolate fills my mouth with joy. I am excited to open the presents! The stockings are hung on a wooden snow- man by the fireplace. We play board games. Our favourite is the Game of Life. My brothers beg to open the presents. When my dad is cooking the chicken it smells like thick meat. We make a gingerbread house with peppermints, gumdrops, gummy worms and frosting. I am grateful for the love I feel at Christmas. I know Christmas.

Christmas

I know Christmas morning. Christmas morning I can see the presents under the tree and the best Christmas candles burning. I can see my sisters and my mom are blooming with joy and happiness. After we opened the presents that were gold and pink, red, green then we have breakfast. We had eggs and butter toast. After that I played with my new doll and then I had supper which was chicken that was so thick and yummy. It smells delicious. Then we played games with my mom and sister. We played hide and seek and red rover. Then we went to bed and I snuggled in my very soft and fluffy blanket. I know Christmas.

I Know Christmas

I know Christmas. Christmas morning is my sister, my cousins, and me rushing down the steep stairs, looking at sparkling ornaments and beautifully wrapped presents my cats are trying to open. After that, we see if the candy cane colored elf has left any sweets behind for us adorable angel-like kids. If we do find any delicious candies, we eat all the sweet chocolate goodies before you can say “I love Christmas!” Next, it's time to wake up the adults that are as tired as 500 year old dinosaurs. Once we wake up the parents by yelling “Wakey, wakey, eggs and bakey!”, we open up our presents and stockings with joy! We go and eat our Christmas breakfast like kings. I always like the scent of sweet hot chocolate along with some smooth pancakes, crispy bacon, and the occasional cup of creamy eggnog. One of my favorite things about Christmas is seeing my family all together in one place. Christmas is my favorite holiday of the year. I know Christmas.

I Know Christmas

I know Christmas. On Christmas morning standing tall in the corner wrapped in sparkling blue, red, yellow, green, and white glowing lights is the Christmas tree. There are presents wrapped in all different colours, sizes, striped, dotted, and stars. They can just be one plain colour, too! I know Christmas. The smell of mint candy canes, ginger- bread, and chocolate! The mouth-watering foods like turkey, mashed potatoes, carrots, and stuffing! I hear the crunching noise from unwrapping presents, laughter fill- ing my living room, and my brother yelling and running all over the place. I can feel the prickly Christmas tree on my fingers. I also feel the presents wrapping paper. I know Christmas.

Dear Santa,
Christmas is the best time of the year! At Christmas time I see stuffed stockings, and toys under the Christmas tree. I love to see the shimmering lights and Christmas decora- tions. I love the smell of fresh baked cookies from the oven. I want to decorate the cookies!
Playing in the snow is fun. I would like to build a snowman. I know Christmas and I love it!

I Know Christmas

I know Christmas with all the laughing out-loud like a lion roaring the loudest he can. The big tree with all the beauti- ful decorations, sparkly lights brightening up my day. I love playing with my new fun, fluffy stuffies. Playing with my new toys on Christmas day is so much fun. Running all around and around and everyone getting filled with ex- citement is so joyful. Smelling the nice breakfast cooking makes me hungry. Opening the presents from under the tree wondering what you will get after one present or two if your good is almost more than I can bear. I know Christ- mas.

I Know Christmas

I know about Christmas. Christmas is the most exciting thing to wake up to. At Christmas, kids are giving hugs to their family and playing with new toys. The bright red and green wrapping paper hurts my eyes when I look at it. The presents are heavy as if NASA put a rocket ship in them. The Christmas tree towers over me like the Eiffel Tower. Delicious cinnamon buns melt my tongue with a rich flavorful taste. The rich chocolate milk washes down the delicious food into my stomach. My hands can feel the rough ornaments sparkling all over the room. There are sparkles all over me and the living room. At Christmas the new toys are hard, squishy, thick and fun to play with. My brother is unwrapping the Christmas presents viciously. A piece of red and green crinkled wrapping paper flies into my face like a fighter jet. Me and my cousins are scream- ing to wake up our parents. I'm overwhelmed with joy once I'm done opening my presents. At Christmas, the people are laughing and people are preparing breakfast. Kids at 3:00 am are trying to open their presents early to see what they get. But their parents are yelling at the children to go to bed. My family and I play with our new toys. I know Christmas.

I Know Christmas

I know Christmas. At Christmas there are lots of presents wrapped in silver, red, and green patiently waiting for my family and I to open. The shimmery lights sparkle on the Christmas tree, making the ornaments dazzle like a starry night sky. Stuffed stockings hang under the TV with candy and chocolate inside. When we go to open our presents there is lots of “Thank you” and “Wow, this is so cool!” Merry and joyful songs play constantly throughout the day. When we go to my grandma and grandpa's house, my little cousins are filled with excitement. At dinner, the taste of my grandma's homemade food melts in my mouth like ice cream on a blazing hot day. When I get up in the morning, my warm fuzzy Christmas pajamas fill me with joy and warmth. I know Christmas.

I Know Christmas

I know Christmas. The sound of Christmas carols playing on the TV and my brothers begging, “Wake up” or, “Can we come out yet?” The Christmas lights sparkle and dazzle in the darkness. The smooth wrapping paper rips as I ex- claim, “Wow I love it !” The joy and anticipation can not stay inside of me. I feel the biggest hug from my relatives and family and it is so loving. The ornaments hang from the tree and the Santa cam is watching us open up our pre- sents. Dazzling silver beads hang off the tree and shine in the lights as we open our presents. The stockings are hanging from the stair railing and they are stuffed with color- ful bulky toys. Gingerbread man cookies break as you dip them in your milk. The scent of the thick vanilla candle floats in the air. Christmas morning is as fun as a giant water park! I know Christmas.

Dear Santa,
There has been a terrible mistake! I'm Megamind. I have been put on the naughty list. In my opinion, I should be on the nice list because I saved a city from a villain, I lost both of my parents, and I am an inventor. So please listen to my three reasons so I can be on the nice list.
To begin with, I saved a city from a villain! In fact I saved the city from Titan! Titan tried to knock the buildings down and injure people but I saved them. Some of the buildings were gigantic so it was hard to save all of them. One of the buildings had a girl I liked tied to it! I drove as fast as I could go to untie her!
Another reason is I lost my parents because my planet got destroyed! In fact if I could get on the nice list it would make me feel much better. I don't get to spend time with my family on Christmas because they all died on my planet. If my parents were still alive I would get kisses. But I can't get them.
Lastly, I'm an inventor. In fact, I invented an invisible car. I used the invisible car to give my beautiful girlfriend a ride. When I gave my dazzling girlfriend a ride we went out on a date! I also made an enormous robot that I could run. I used it to defeat Titan. If I got put on the nice list I would invent something to help the world. For example I could invent more robots for armies.
All in all, I really want to be on the nice list because I lost both of my parents, I saved a city and I'm an inventor. Oh Santa, please please put me on the nice list!

Love, Megamind

Dear Santa,
There has been a terrible mistake. I heard I was placed on the naughty list. I'm Gru from Despicable Me, you may know me. In my opinion, I think I should be on the nice list because I'm an excellent parent, I'm a good person, and I'm an amazing supporter of my family.
To begin with, I'm a good person. For example, I saved Lisa, my girlfriend's life from exploding. Did you know, I saved purple minions from getting hurt and turned them into yellow minions? Also, I'm not really violent to other people. Another reason, I'm an awesome parent. Did you know I adopted 3 children: Margo, Edith, and Agnes? I listen to my children if they need something. For example, I help my girls with their parties or special events. I even help them with their dreams and hopes they want to accomplish.
One last reason, I'm an amazing supporter. I supported my three children: Margo, Edith, and Agnes. I help them with their homework or if they're in trouble. Also, I support my wife Lisa. I support her with her job and around the house. Also, support the minions.
All in all, I think I should be on the nice list because I'm a good person, an excellent parent, and an amazing sup- porter.

Love,
Gru

Dear Santa,
Please allow me to introduce myself. I am Mother Gothel from Rapunzel. I heard there has been a GREAT misunderstanding! I have been informed that I am on the naughty list! In my opinion, I should be on the nice list because I only thought Rapunzel's parents were gone, I wanted to keep her safe and I missed parenting classes.
To begin with, I only thought Rapunzel's parents were gone! I mean who would leave a poor baby alone? In fact I was saving her life! She would have starved if her parents were not home. Most importantly, the window was wide open! Talk about freezing!
Second, I wanted to keep her safe. In particular, I was teaching her how to be safe. There are a lot of people that could hurt Rapunzel! And there is a bar down the road full of bad people! The Snuggly Duckling is the name. Who knows who could hurt her?! Did I mention there are dangerous things out there - animals, people and plants!
Lastly, I missed parenting classes. Look, I didn't have time for them! Because I missed them I did not know how to take care of Rapunzel. I did not know you shouldn't keep a child locked up in a tower! Also, I did not know how to love her and spend time with her. That's why I brushed her hair: I was trying to bond with her. THAT is why I brushed her hair - not because it made me young!

To sum it up, I feel I should be on the nice list because I thought Rapunzel's parents were gone, I was trying to keep her safe and I missed parenting classes. And hey, Santa, you still have time to move me to the nice list!

Sincerely,
Mother Gothel

Dear Santa,
There has been a huge misunderstanding! I don't deserve to be on the naughty list. Here are my three reasons why.
First of all I didn't kill Moufasa, my claws slipped and the stampede caused my claws to slip.
Second of all, the lionesses do not understand what a good leader I have tried to be. Like I have made friends with enemies, the hyenas. I do so much more work than Moufasa. For example I took better care of the pride than Moufasa did like I gave them food and water.
Last of all I took the work off Simba's shoulders. I told Simba I could take the throne so he wouldn't have to worry about the pride. I took care of the pride. I took the work of hunting off Simba's shoulders. I was kidding when I told the rest of the pride to hunt when there was no food left.

After all, I am a good guy and you should put me on the nice list.

Sincerely,
Scar
