CUPE education workers conference held at Manitou Beach

■ Daniel Bushman

Addressing the recent provincial budget, how cuts are impacting student supports, and looking at bargaining trends, approximately 70 Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE) education workers gathered at Manitou Beach as part of their annual conference.

Held May 3 to 5, the Education Workers' Steering Committee Conference at Manitou Springs Resort began with greetings and a presentation from the Ontario School Board Council of Unions followed by speakers that included Samantha Becotte, President of the Saskatchewan Teachers Federation, Matt Love, NDP Opposition Education Critic, and Andreane Chenier, CUPE National Health and Safety Officer.

While Chair of CUPE Education Workers Steering Committee Omar Murray was disappointed that Minister of Education Dustin Duncan declined to speak during the conference, he noted the event went well. "We have a really good cross section of people with around 70 in attendance."

With CUPE members wanting to educate and support the leaders of tomorrow in classrooms throughout the province, due to lack of funding, Murray feels "the education sector is suffering. That is the crux of it. A lot of it has to do with the way that it is funded."

"We are having a tough time," Murray continued. "The provincial government talks about giving the school boards more money but the amounts that they use also include the money that they have given already."

Explaining that a number of years ago school divisions were able to set their own mill rates compared to government taking that on and then allotting the funds to the divisions, Murray feels the current approach is not working. "What has happened is, the provincial government, instead of giving the school board a pie, is basically giving them a tart. They have made that pie so small, all of those pieces are very very small. I am afraid that we are losing education workers. EAs in particular. And I am afraid they are not going to be able to afford to work for school divisions."

In an effort to see education receive additional funding through the provincial budget, Murray said "what we need to do is lobby for a better portion of it to go to the education sector."

As part of the education workers steering committee conference, Murray added the job of those in attendance is to help education support workers speak with one voice to the provincial government. "That is what we are trying to do."

With a number of attendees taking part in the recent Rally for Public Education at the Saskatchewan Legislative Building in Regina where issues like resources and funding for education were highlighted, coming away from that event, Murray said, "If the ► Highlighting a number of topics including the recent provincial budget and education cuts impacting student supports, approximately 70 delegates from the Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE) education workers steering committee spent May 3 to 5 at Manitou Beach. provincial government is not willing to step up and assist the education sector, it is going to come to not a good fruition."

Seeing thousands of people in attendance at the rally, from union representatives to parents and children, Murray was pleased by the amount of supporters who made the effort to go. The bus driver from Maple Creek was also encouraged by the number of people that showed up at the conference at Manitou Beach. "It is the middle of the week, it is school time for these people and they have come to represent all different facets of education support staff."

As for being able to spend some time at Manitou Beach, Murray said he enjoyed it. "I have been here once before several years ago. It is such a beautiful place and I would like to see maybe having more conferences here.

"You have a conference like this and it is a boost to the local economy. There is an extra 70 people who showed up. Every one of them eat. They might go and shop somewhere. They might do this, they might do that. It is a boost to the town and the spa has been really good. They have welcomed us quite well."

Wrapping up the week with positive dialogue, it was Murray's hope that moving forward, the provincial government recognizes the value of students within the school system and those who teach and support them. "The best investment that they can make is education for the generation of tomorrow."

New business opens in Watrous

■ Daniel Bushman

With an opportunity to not only open their own business but with hopes of expanding their product line, Jim and Gisele Cooke are aiming to cater to those seeking a local area vape store.

Officially opening the doors to Last Stop Vape Shop at 205B Main Street in Watrous on Apr. 11, Jim explained there were not many places where people could access the items they stock. "Everyone has to go to either Humboldt or Saskatoon so we thought, why not check it out and see what it takes to open a vape shop."

With Gisele and her daughter already vaping, after looking around for a place to set up shop, they found a location on Main Street next to Inksters. Since opening almost a month ago, Jim noted things have been going good including the support they have received from a number of those within the community and surrounding area.

"Right now we offer nicotine base to zero milligram vapes, smoking accessories such as pipes and bongs but no cannabis. We also have an assortment of e-juice and disposable vapes to choose from."

Required to be over 18 years of age to enter the store, Cooke said they are open Monday to Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

"It is very exciting to talk to people coming in and you are meeting new people. People are meeting old friends here as well so it has been fun to watch."

Cooke encourages those who are curious about the store to stop by or visit them on Facebook by searching Last Stop Vape Shop.

Wow, the beautiful month of May is here and it is fantastic. We managed to get our yard work done, most of it anyway. It is like housework, it never ends, but it is a little better when you can be outside in the fresh air. I went over to pickleball at the school Tuesday evening. It is such a great time.

At Viscount Central School the Gr. 4 students and the Kindergarten are weekly reading buddies. They enjoyed the Paper Bag Princess book last week.

Way to go Elizabeth Udell who plays for the PA Northern Bears. Her team competed in the U18 Esso Cup. Elizabeth is originally from Viscount. Sounds like the games were very exciting.

I believe it is also tick season. Please watch and check for them. I remember a time when it was a thing we never had to worry about. Now for myself anyway, I am always checking for them. Have a great week!

Dear Reena,

I collect coins and spoons and over the years they have tarnished. What is an easy way to clean them without damaging them? Maurice

Dear Maurice,

Just like the Statue of Liberty, pennies will turn green with too much exposure to oxygen. Here are a few techniques that will add shine to your coins. Into a cup or a bowl pour in half a cup lemon juice or white vinegar. Add two teaspoons salt. Drop the coins into the mixture. Wait five minutes and polish. The drawback to this technique is that the coins may turn green if not dried well and the sparkle is short-lived. Brasso is a less risky option for cleaning coins. The least risky option is to use a rubber eraser to polish coins; however, this is quite a tedious process. After cleaning the coins, some people apply Turtle Wax to reduce tarnish, but take caution as this may look great, but lower the value of the coins. For silver spoons, place crumpled aluminum foil in a pan or plastic container. Dissolve one-quarter cup washing soda or salt in enough hot water to cover the spoons. Place spoons on foil and let stand for five minutes. Rinse and polish dry with a soft cloth.

Apple butter tip of the week

I had several leftover apples this year and decided to make 'Apple Butter' for my toast. It turned out so well that I really must share the recipe. Make it in a slow cooker and the entire house smells amazing! Peel, core and chop five and a half pounds of apples. Place the apples in your slow cooker. Into a separate bowl combine four cups white sugar, two teaspoons ground cinnamon, half teaspoon ground cloves and half teaspoon salt. Mix contents with apples. Cook on high for one hour. Reduce heat to low and cook for 10 hours or until mixture is dark brown and thick (stir occasionally). Uncover and cook for one more hour. Pour into sterile jars and store in fridge or freezer. Yum!

What's the meaning of the road to Emmaus?

Neighbourly advice according to Ed

A spiritual column
by contributor
Raymond Maher
www.accordingtoed.com

The journey to Emmaus is both a literal and a spiritual journey. (Luke 24:13-35) It occurs on the first day of the week after Jesus' death and burial.

Two disciples were walking from Jerusalem to the town of Emmaus, about seven miles in the distance. As they walked, a stranger accompanied them, and he talked with them along the way until they reached Emmaus. There they invited the stranger to have a meal with them. As they ate, they recognized that the stranger was Jesus. But he disappeared, and the two men turned around and rushed back to Jerusalem to share the great news that Jesus was alive from the dead and they had seen him themselves.

Their spiritual journey on foot from Jerusalem to Emmaus begins in grief, confusion, and despair. Still, it turns to understanding, joy, and renewed hope and purpose on the trip back to Jerusalem. We understand the two men walking towards Emmaus were disciples needing help coming to terms with all the events in Jerusalem concerning Jesus. They could not accept the reality of all that had happened to Jesus.

Jesus, after his resurrection from the dead, understood that these two men needed specific teaching. First, they needed to understand from Moses and all the Prophets how the scriptures showed who Jesus was as the fulfillment of the promised Messiah. Second, Jesus knew they needed the scripture opened to them so they understood the reality and purpose of himself.

We are told in Luke 24:25-27 "He said to them, 'How foolish you are, and how slow to believe all that the prophets have spoken! Did not the Messiah have to suffer these things and then enter his glory?' And beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he explained to them all the Scriptures concerning himself."

Jesus wanted to help them grow in their spiritual maturity. God as the son of God, knows what each person needs. The men did not recognize Jesus as he walked with them. Often, we go through life unaware of God's presence, purpose, and will when we are part of it.

"Consider how he had Abraham take a walk, Elijah take a nap, Joshua take a lap, and Adam take the rap. He gave Moses a forty-year time out, he gave David a harp and a dance, and he gave Paul a pen and a scroll. He wrestled with Jacob, argued with Job, whispered to Elijah, warned Cain, and comforted Hagar. He gave Aaron an altar; Miriam a song, Gideon a fleece, Peter a name, and Elisha a mantle. Jesus was stern with the rich young ruler, tender with the woman caught in adultery, patient with the disciples, blistering with the scribes, gentle with the children, and gracious with the thief on the cross. God never grows two people the same way. God is a handcrafter, not a mass producer." (Quoted from John Ortberg, The Me I Want to Be)

Trust God, as He has a plan for all things. All the pieces fall into place with God even if we do not recognize what He is doing in our lives. Like the men on the road to Emmaus, we journey on in life and we meet Jesus. Yet, we do not recognize Him, because we are too self-focused and uncertain that Jesus is alive.

First coming into existence in 1984, the annual competition has members of the Lanigan Division emergency response group divided into teams, creating a balance between wisdom gained through years of experience and the eagerness of newer recruits. The day is also aimed to stimulate participants to train intensively in the use of respiratory protective equipment, emergency tools and first aid procedures. It also acts as an opportunity to evaluate and compare the effectiveness and quality of the emergency response program at the mine.

Thank You to Nurses Across Saskatchewan

National Nursing Week is an opportunity to celebrate the many contributions nurses make across our health care system. Every day, nurses deliver high quality care and are making a difference to Saskatchewan patients.

The Government of Saskatchewan recognizes the unwavering dedication and commitment of nearly 18,000 nurses working across the province on the front lines of health care.

Saskatchewan is fortunate to have highly trained, compassionate, and dedicated nurses in our province. We are grateful for our registered nurses, registered psychiatric nurses, licensed practical nurses and nurse practitioners. Thank you for the difference you make in the lives of your patients and in your communities.

We have heard the call for additional staffing and resources to meet patient care needs. Building capacity within our health care system, and strengthening our current and future health care workforce are top priorities for the provincial government.

Saskatchewan's Health Human Resources Action Plan outlines our plans to recruit, train, incentivize, and retain health care providers. Learn more at saskatchewan.ca/hhr SCHAAN - Kathy. It has been 4 years since I have lost you dear, but I still hear your voice in my ear. Here is a poem, that will always be in my heart and in my home.

Those we love
Don't go away
They walk beside Us every day.
Unseen, unheard
But always near
So loved, so missed
So very dear.

Saskatchewanians are slowly getting their deck furniture out of hibernation. Hopefully soon, fingers crossed, we will be having our morning coffee outside listening to the birds chatter while we plan the day.

May's breezy days are ideal for drying your laundry on the clothesline. (See, those crazy windy days are great for something). I must admit that I am a fair weather laundry-hanger-outer. Nary an item goes on the line during the cold winter months.

Did you know that working bingos for Young Parks and Rec earns you a $40 credit towards swimming lessons and swimming passes? That is an impressive saving!

Road construction season is almost here. Two years ago we grumbled a little, inconvenienced with construction delays on Hwy 16. Now we realize the merits of, and appreciate, the passing lanes. These passing lanes, along with the newer divided highway section, give us a safer travelling experience to Saskatoon.

How long has it been since moose moved into our region? Seeing one in the field, I am still taken aback. While they are not a pretty animal, their size and adaptability is impressive.

Happy Mother's Day!
Enjoy your week!

COLONSAY
Irene Gray • 306-255-2775

The funeral for Donna Beres was held at Hillcrest Funeral Home Tuesday, Apr. 25. Several attended from Colonsay. Joan Campbell was an honorary urnbearer along with Lisa Beres, Pauline Beres and Marlene Norman. A dedication to the endless pursuit of the perfect game. Fond memories of the challenges. Of the greens and trials of its traps. And now the last putt has dropped into the "cup of life". And the light of the day faded. It is now on your fairways of glory that the game will continue to be played.

I am a longtime supporter of The War Amps, and they have returned two sets of keys I had lost. A wonderful organization and a terrific public service that really works.

THE WORLD

► In this edition of TWM Around the World, Hugh and Cheryl Carlson of Watrous and granddaughter Anna Bella of Calgary (along with her parents and one and a half year old brother Matéo) flew 20 hours each way to experience an incredible holiday at the Island of Mauritius. Cheryl said although they enjoyed the warm weather, swimming in the Indian Ocean, tourist activities and local fare, the highlight was a family reunion where Matéo's paternal grandfather held his grandson for the first time. Thanks for thinking of TWM during your travels! 📷 photos submitted
