October 4, 2026

Lloyd passed away at St. Paul's Hospital (Palliative Care Unit) in Saskatoon at the age of 98 with his daughter and son-in-law by his side. He is again with his wife of 74 years, Shirley, and will be very happy about that.

Lloyd is survived by his sister, Gayle Qualman, who will dearly miss her big brother. He is also survived by his children, Gregory (Gloria) Berry of Muenster, along with their children and grandchildren, Jayson Berry; Reanne (Reilly Williams and Preslee); and Kelvin (Darlene) Berry of Saskatoon, along with their children and grandchildren, Terra (Jordy Flahr, River and Georgia); Erika (Jeff Zoerb, Violet and Hazel); Michael Berry (Nicole Ackerman, Camden and Brixton); and Sheryl (Dennis) Armstrong of Saskatoon.

Dad was a farmer through and through and farmed at Young his whole life. He worked in various locations in British Columbia and Alberta hauling logs and coal, and hauling grain for many farmers in the area. He got his Senior Auto Mechanics certification from the Musker Engineering Institute in Winnipeg in 1946. Lloyd and Shirley travelled in their trailer for a few years, took a few cruises, vacationed with their daughter and son-in-law to Hawaii, and enjoyed many winters in Indio, California.

Upon Lloyd's request, no funeral will be held.
